DETAILED ACTION

Allowable Subject Matter

1. Claims 1-20 are allowed.
2. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance:

The terminal disclaimer filed on Aug.2, 2004 disclaiming the terminal portion of any patent granted on this application which would extend beyond the expiration date of US patent No 6,697,139 has been reviewed and is accepted. The terminal disclaimer has been recorded.

The prior art of record neither discloses nor teaches a liquid crystal display device comprising various elements as claimed, more specifically, as the following:

the signal line is extended into the peripheral area of the liquid crystal display device beyond the sealing material, and the first insulating film (such as gate insulating layer), the semiconductor layer and the second insulating film (such as protective passivation layer) also extended into peripheral area of the liquid crystal display device beyond the sealing material, and the stacked first insulating film, semiconductor layer and the second insulating film over the signal line in order to protect signal line from corrosion and simplify the manufacturing process as shown in the Fig.1 [claims 1, 9 and 18]

The closest references US 5,847,781(Ono et al) disclose the signal line such as gate line is covered with a stacked layer and the signal line extended to the terminal that is extended into peripheral area, but the stacked layer structure such as the passivation layer, the semiconductor layer and the gate insulating layer do not extended into the peripheral area of the liquid crystal display device as claimed in the claim as shown in the Fig.1.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
